Description

The property is located in Pumpuri, a relatively quiet part of the city of Jurmala, on the coast of the Baltic Sea, 27 km from the capital of Latvia - Riga.

Jurmala is a resort town located on the Latvian coast of the Baltic Sea, in the Gulf of Riga. The city is half an hour's drive away from the capital of Latvia - Riga, and less than half an hour's drive from Riga International airport.

Jurmala can be described as a polycentric, linear city between the Gulf of Riga and river Lielupe, formed of several historical fishing villages which from the 19th century onwards have transformed into seaside resorts. Its main focus nowadays is on leisure and its related programs - retail, cultural, entertainment, and health - which are mostly clustered around several centres, most notably Dzintari and Dubulti, to the east of the site. Most of the city's current built fabric consists of historical private summer houses, a substantial part of which are considered listed buildings of various levels of importance.

On the territory of the site there are a boarding house, household building, two storage rooms, paved paths, lawns and trees. The hotel was built in 1987 and partially reconstructed. In 2000, it was built recreation complex with swimming pool.
